ICDP & FOLKTALE PRESENT: STORYTELLING & DIGITAL MEDIA

1 Hour Workshop

24 February 2023 • Online
10:00am – 11:00am (AEST)

International Centre for Democratic Partnerships in collaboration with our friends at Folktale are bringing together ICDP Community members and new faces from Australia and the Pacific for our next network event. Join us to share, learn and develop storytelling techniques. If you want to be part of a strong network and gain insights into how to promote your business, organisation or community message, please register via the below link by 23 February 2023 at the latest.

Storytelling makes us human...

The wild pig and sea cow were best friends who enjoyed racing each other for sport. One day the sea cow hurt his legs and could run no more. So, the wild pig carried him down to the sea where they could race forever, side by side. One in the water, one on the land.

You can learn a lot from a tale like that - about friendship, cooperation, empathy and an aversion to inequality. Join us online for a storytelling workshop you won't want to miss out on. Come and learn from real folk who have used and experienced the power of storytelling firsthand.

It's not just one day...

If you are already an ICDP Community member - your stories with us have already begun and you continue to benefit from network connections. If you are new to our Community - welcome and enjoy the depth and breadth of knowledge, experience, and warmth.

What are we aiming for?

To introduce you to the world of storytelling. To provide a space to share, learn, & create. To equip you with ideas & confidence to use storytelling personally and in your business. To expand your network.

- ▶ Why it's important to share your own story.
- ▶ How to craft memorable and effective stories.
- ▶ Build confidence to tell your story to camera.

The workshop will be facilitated by Renee Chan & Roman Albert from Folktale.
